ARRANGEMENTS

For the Funeral of the Late Vice-President--Distinguished Visitors from All Parts of the Country to be Present.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 30 .- All the trains coming into the city this morning were crowded, and several of the roads were compelled to run extras to accomodate the people who desire to come to the capital to attend the funeral of Vice-President Hendricks. The remains still lie in state in the corrider of the court-house. and will be removed to the family residence at 5 o'clock this evening. The arrangements for handling the crowd were much more complete and satisfactory to-day than on yesterday. Military companies and police were stationed along Washington street for two blocks away from the court-house, and as fast as the people arrived they were put in two lines which were kept moving. There was a steady and undiminished stream of humanity pouring through the building all day. The doors were opened at seven o'clock this morning, and from that time up to noon the crowd pressed through at the rate of seven-live a minute, Probably 25,000 people visiting the remains up to one o'clock. The greater part of these were from out of the city, although all the schools, offices, manufactories, and nearly all the business houses in the city have been closed all day. The crowd was quiet and orderly, and because of very careful arrangements and strict attention to their duties, by accidents or mishaps. The chairman of the committee on arrangements has received dispatches announcing that the following parties will arrive this afternoon and tonight: Gov. Hoadley and staff, of Onio; Gov. Oglesby and staff, of Illi-nois; Senator Payne and party, from Ohio; the mayors and members of the city councils of Detroit, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Chicago; Maj. Gen. Schoofield, Maj. Sanger, S. Corning Judd, of Chicago; Ex-Senator Graham N. Fitch, of Logansport; the Gondola club, of Toledo; the America club of Peoria; Hon. Henry Drago and party, of New York; the Jell-rson club, of Dayton; a delegation of twenty-live rom Tammany hall and others.

The senatorial and congressional committee and other dignatories of the government will arrive on special trains to-morrow morning. Hon. David Davis, of Illinois, who was expected to arrive here to day and deliver an address at the bar meeting, telegraphs that on account of the death of a relative at Springfield, Ill., he will be unable to attend.

home this morning, seeing but a few smilax and flowers.

addresses were made by Judge W. A. Bickle, of Richmond; Hon. John R. Cofforth, of Lafayette, Ind.; Judge D. son, of Crawfordsville; Judge Frazer, of Warsaw, and others. WASHINGTON, Nov. 30-The conressional committee appointed to at-tend the funeral of Vice-President Hendricks left by special train on the Pennsylvania road at 10:30 o'clock this morning. The senate committee consisted of Senators Edmunds, Allison, Pugh, Harris, Conger, Blair, Dolphe, Vest, Beck, Camden, Vance, Jones and Voorhees. Dolphe, Vest, Beck, Vance, Jones and They were accompanied by Gen. Mc-Cook and Col. Canaday, sergent-atarms. The House committee consists of Morrison, Blount, Herbert, Holman, Sp inger, Hepburn, Ward, Phelps, Kleiner, Ryan and Dunn. They were accompanied by Sergeant-at-arms Leedom.

Associate Justices Matthews and Blatchford, representing the United States supreme court, accompanied by Assistant Marshal Ryordan, went up on the same train. The train was in charge of Mr. Robert A. Parke, of the Pennsylvania railroad company, and Mr. Robert Barry, of the Pullman car company.

A Sudden Advance. NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 30-A private dispatch having been received here Saturday stating the decision of the United States supreme court, in the case involving the validity of the New Orleans Gas Light Company, pending, would be favorable to company, sustaining their claims of the exclusive right to make gas in this city for fifty years, shares of the company which were quoted at 71

The Atlanta Prohibitionists, En-Joined.

advanced to 83 and are now quoted at

79. No seller.s

ATLANTA, GA., Dec. 1 .- Judge Mc-Cary, United States district judge, at a late hour last night, issued a restraining order against the declaration of the recent prohibition election in Atlanta.

A Flerce Fight Between the Prohl-bitionists and Anti-Prohibitionists in Jackson.

cial to Commercial Herald Jackson, Nov. 30-A few days since a list of names, styled "The Black List," appeared on the streets containthe names of citizens, who singed the Prohibition petition and of those w'10 refuse to sign whisky petitions. This list was freely circulated by the Prohibitions, who had succeeded in getting hold of the original lists, which was intended to be kept secret and for the use only of saloonmen as a boyeotting scheme. Several of the prominent saloon men have all along denied all knowledge of this list and now twelve issue a circular to the public, in which they repudiate the black list and state that they believe every man should be accorded the right to sign or not to sign liquor petitions, according to his own judgment. The "Black List" was acting like a boomerang, and has made probibitionists out of many who have heretofore been neutral. These twelve at last considered it of enough importance to deny all connection or knowledge of it.

A BASE FRAUD.

A Spiritualistic Medium Exposed and a Coat of Tar and Feathers Suggested. STRAWBERRY POINT, Nov. 30-C.

Wyman, a spiritualistic medium, been holding seances at the residence of W. B. Field for a couple of weeks past, the attendance being large each evening, the medium not forgetting to collect one dime from the police and military, there were no each person in attendance. Quite a number of citizens have been worked up to a high pitch, several being on the verge of insanity over the adroit manner he brought up so-called spirits of their departed friends. Several skeptical young men attended the seance Saturday night, with the determination of exposing what they considered a palpable fraud. Accordingly one of them managed to secure a seat near the cabinet from which the spirit's materilized and the clothing of the medium was sewed securely to the chair in the cabinet. The circle formed and the lights were turned down. Soon as the spirit of the father of one of the company was materialized and reached out to shake hands with his son, when the young man near the cabinet grappled the messenger from the other world and threw him to the floor. The believers immediately hurled themselves upon the daring man, upon which the other skeptics took a hand in the affair, and for awhile pandemoniam reigned, with the spirit believers and unbelievers rolling on the floor of the dimly lighted room. The lights were at length Mrs. Hendricks remains quietly at turned up, when, to the amazement of the believing circle, the materialized callers. A committee of ladies have spirit proved to be the medium in an to have the law upon their side, as elaborately draped and decorated the exceedingly airy attire; the white family residence with white crape, clothing out of which he had is claimed, appeal to congress for ad-At a meeting of the State bar asso. The indignation was great among ciation this afternoon, Hon. Walter the spiritualists as well as others, and Q. Gresham, of Chicago, presided, tar and feathers were strongly talked Judge David Turple presented a of for a time, but finally cooler judglengthy memorial, and brief eulogistic ment prevented and warrants were sworn out for Wyman's arrest for obtaining money under false pretances. A hearing was had before Justice F. Love, of Shelbyville; Judge David. Baird. Wyman came up this afternoon, plead guilty, and in default of bail, was remanded to the county jail to await the action of the grand jury. Wyman is one of the most noted mediums in the west, being chief medium at the recent Iowa spiritualial camp meeting at Clinton, and coming to this place from Evansport, Chicago, where he has been holding succeasful

> Sickening Sight at a Hanging. NORWICH, ENG., Nov. 30 .- A horrible and sickening sight was witnessed to-day at the banging of Robert Goodale, a market gardener, for the murder of his wife at Wiseash, on Sept. 15th last. A lifteen stone weight was used and the drop was six feet. When the trap was sprung the rope bounded violently and Goodale's head was severed from his body, the trunk and head falling to the ground, the head lying at the feet and blood oozing freely from both body and head. The spectators were horror stricken and became sick at the scene. An inquest was held. The hangman said Goodale's head looked as though it had been cut with a knife. He had thin vertebrae. The surgeon said the hangman was sober, cool and collected when he sprung the trap. The jury rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts and attaching no blame to the hang-

Too well known to need lengthy advertisements-Dr. Sage's Cutarrh Rem-

Gen. N. H. Harris.

A Washington special to the New Orleans Picayune of the 29th says: Gen. N. H. Harris, of Vicksburg. Miss., was appointed to-day register of the land office at Aberdeen, Dakota Territory.

Small-pox Cases,

BRUTAL ATTACK

WARASH, IND., Nov. 30-What doubtless will prove to be a cold blooded murder was perpetrated in the woods four miles east of Wabash yesterday afternoon. Joseph Spencer, a young man of bad character, and Silvester Huff, an old resident of Legro township, while passing through the woods became involved in an altercation relative to some timber. In a tit of rage Spencer knocked the old man down, and beat and kicked his face into a jelly. Subsequently Huff dragged himself to the house, where Spencer lives to have his wounds dressed. The burly brute again attacked the infirm victim, crushing his skull with a club, repeatedly striking him with dishes and articles of furniture Blood streamed from a dozen wounds upon the old man's person, and but for the attentions of Spencer's wife, who endeavored to save him from the savage attacks, he would have blcd to death. Believing that he had killed the old man, Spencer fled and remained hidden in the woods until night. When news of the crime reached the city, an officer went out and captured him. He was lodged in jail and a preliminary examination will be had before the mayor this morning. The assault, from what can be learned, was almost wholly unprovoked. Spencer declares that he did not intend to kill Huff, but the fact that he renewed the attack at his residence imparts a bad phase to the matter. Huff is lying in a critical condition and is thought will die.

Dividing the Money Received from the Lease of Grazing Lands. NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 1-The Times-Democrat Indian Territory special; 'A bill authorizing the distribution of three hundred thousand dollars received from the lease of grazing lands of the Territory to cattle syndicates, among the Cherokee's per capita, is now before the lower house of the Cherokee legislature. The bill attracts eral, was voted down in the senate by arouses intense feeling, causing all exteriors. One tory settlement cannot be had through the Cherokee legislature.

The Czar Compliments the Bulgarians. ST. PETERSBURG, Dec. 1-The following is the substance of an imperial order published to-day: "Although deeply affected by the fratricidal war of Bulgaria and Servia, the ezar considers that the determination, selfabnegation, perseverance and love of order displayed by the Bulgarian-Roumelian troops during the conflict are worthy of high praise; mindful of the judicious self-sacrificing Russian officers who imparted to the troops the military, heroic and martial spirit, the czar thanks Maj Gen. Prince Cantacazeri, Bulgarian minister of war, and assures him of his favor; and to all other Russian officers who served in Bulgaria and Roumelia.

The British Troops Occupy Manda-

LONDON, Dec. 1 .- The British expeditionary force, under Gen. Pendergrast, has arrived at Mandelay with-Burmese. Lord Dufferin, viceroy of India, has telegraphed the home government that he has arranged to administer the Burmese government provisionally in the queen's victorious name. The Europeans who remained at Mandalay on the outbreak of hostilities are safe.

No Outbreak at Beaver Coal Mines. ST. LOUIS, Dec. 1 .- No serious outbreak at the Beaver coal mines has been reported up to 11 o'clock to-day, and so far as known no disturbance occurred last night. The troops that were ordered to report for duty last night did not leave for Beaver as was expected they would, and it is hoped there will be no occasion for them to go. Nothing has been heard from the governor this morning. He is now at Jefferson City and will be advised at once if any disturbance occurs.

Serious Illness of Commodore

Lowndes. of paralysis. He was appointed a MONTREAL, Dec. 1-Saturday and midshipman in 1815, and was retired appearance of the dead, she desired Sunday 27 cases of small-pox were re- in 1861. He was a commodore on the retired list in July, 1862.

LAID TO REST.

Upon an Old Man, Who is Beaten IMPOSING FUNERAL CEREMO-Almost to Death. NIES AT INDIANAPOLIS.

The City Draped in Mourning--Beautiful Floral Tributes--Large Number of Distinguished Guests.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 1 .- The mortal emains of Thos. A. Hendricks, the fifth vice president of the United States to die during his term of office, were conveyed to the tomb to-day. The clergy, without respect to sect, joined in the obsequies. The bells of all the churches tolled a requiem. The early morning trains on ail railways brought in delegations from the national capitol and leading cities of the union, with an influx of people from the interior cities and hamlets of Central Indiana and Illinois. The cabinet was represented by Secretary of the State Bayard, Secretary of the Interior Lamar, Secretary of the Navy Whitney, Secretary of War Endicott and Postmaster General Vilas. The supreme bench of the United States was represented by Associate Justices Matthews and Blatchford. The United States Senate was represented by Senators Edmunds, Allison, Pugh, Harris Conger, Biair, Dolph, Vest, Beck, Camden, Vance, Jones, Voorhees, Payne, Palmer and Harrison. The committee representing the house of representatives was composed of W. R. Morrison, J. Blount, H. A. Herbert, W. S. Holman, W. M. Springer, W. P. Hepburne, S. B. Ward, W. W. Phelps, J. J. Klemer, Thomas Ryan, and J. Dunn. The number of the active and ex-members of the lower house present, in addition to those named, was very large. The governors of Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Kentucky were present, attended by their staffs and numerous State ficers. Maj. Gen. Schofield was the rear chief representative of the U. S. army Hayes and Gen. Wm. T. Sherman were distinguished guests, the latter accom- ate and house of representatives panying the delegation from St. Louis. citizens claim the money should be cornice, run up the corners and comequally divided among all resident pletely cover the wall space of the citizens of the Nation. The bill, how- first story, leaving only the doors and first story, leaving only the doors and ever, provides for the distribution windows visible. The county court-among the Cherokees only. An house, where the remains lay in state amendment, making the division gen- until Monday evening, and the statehouse, are tastefully draped, but in eleven to seven, and the original bill much less elaborate style, owing passed by a similar vote. The question to their much more massive tinuation of the church rites and business house other citizens to array themselves on Washington street has the words long march to Crown Hill against the full blood Cherokees. It is "I am free at last," the last words of cemetery. The column was preceded believed the original bill will pass the the dead vice-president. Portraits of by a mounted police escort, who were lower house by a small majority. The the deceased, all shrouded in black, followed by the Columbus barracks friends of general distribution appear are profusely hung in the windows. on portraits of Mr stepped remained sewed to the chair. judication of the matter if a satisfac- On the mantel in the front parlor was by the animals attached to the funeral an elaborate floral piece emblematic of car which bore the remains of Gen. of a Chinese class of the Presbyterian | the hearse was a guard from the Indi-Sunday-school. The most notable anapolis Light Infantry carrying their representation of the designs in flowers was that of the log in which Mr. Hen-was born in Ohio, born in Ohio. It stood at the head of his coffin and remains, and was the work of ladies of Shelbyville, where Mr. Hendricks had formerly lived. It was six feet in length and four in height. Its sides were composed of calla lilies, white hyacinths, carnations and roses. The roof was of English ivy and smilax, the chimney of red and white carnations. On one side of the minature structure, in purple immortelles, was the inscription "The home of my boy-hood," and beneath "Shelbyville." On the door of the cabin was pendent a black satin banner, bearing in letters of gold "God's finger touched him and he slept," and the second inscription underneath "Shel-"byville mourns her distinguished and gifted son." Over a large painting out resistance being offered by the of the dead vice-president, in the back parlor of the mansion, was flung a soft drapery of white Chinese silk and near it stood the splendid banner presented during the recent national campaign, containing the faces of President Cleveland and deceased.

During the morning the arrival of additional floral designs caused a change in the arrangements in the parlors. An emblem of the "Gates Ajar," from the Cook county Democratic club of Chicago, was placed at the head of the casket. Perhaps the most thoughtful and touching tribute was the simple wreath from the little village of Fultonham, Ohio, where Mr. Hendricks was born. It was placed on the casket, and alongside were the more rare and brillant products of the White House conservatories, received this morning from Miss Cleveland.

At 9 o'clock Mrs. Hendricks entered the room for the last leave taking, accompanied only by her brother and Mrs. Morgan. The ordeal was most EASTON, MD., Dec. 1-Commodore trying and the desolate woman seemed Charles Lowndes, U. S. N., aged 86, is to be utterly prostrated, clinging to said to be near death, at his country the last to the clay so soon to be hidseat in Talbot county, from an attack den forever from her view, and impressed with the placid and life-like preserve this last scene, late she sent for a photographer to take a picture of the casket. This was done without further leave taking.

The police and military kept the curious, but always respectful mass of people out of the way, and the little cavalcade moved quietly with its military escort through the densely lined streets to the cathedral of St. Paul. The casket was borne into church at 11:40 o'clock. The officiating clergy, four in number, Bishop Knickbocker, of this diocese; Rev. Dr. Stringfellow, of Montgomery, Ala., the first recter of St. Paul's, and under whose ministrations Mr. Hendricks joined the church; Rev. Dr. Fulton, of St. Louis, a former rector of St. Paul's, and Rev. Dr. Jenckes, the present rector, in their robes of office, met the remains at the main entrance of the cathedral on Illinois street.

Preceded by a guard of the Indianapolis Light Intantry, the body was borne up the cen-tral aisle, the clergymen and members of the vestry going in advance. Bishop Knickerbocker voiced the opening sentence of the burial service, 'I Am the Resurrection and the Life," followed by Rev. Dr. S. Stringfellow and Fulton in their recitation of the other verses used for the dead, until the casket had been carried and placed outside the chancel. When the casket had been placed in front of the chancel rail, the choir sang the anthem "Lord Let Mc Know My End." The lesson for the dead was then read by Rev. Dr. Jenckes. This was followed by the singing of the hymn "Lead heavenly light" by the chor, the audience joining. In the church edifice the place of honor was accorded Ex-President Hays, his full beard and hair showing the whiteness of advancing years. He rat immediately in rear of the pews occupied by the vestry and reception committee. In the pew directly in his rear were Secretary Bayard and other members of the cabinet. present. Ex-President Rutherford B. To their left were seated the committee from the United States senwearing flowing sashes of white over general attention throughout the Indian country. The Delaware and Shawnee Indians and white and negro wide bands of black cover the entire Immediately in their rear were the officers of the United States army in full uniform. On the north side of church were the governors of States present with their staffs. The bells of all the city churches began their tolling when the remains were taken from the house, and continued their pealing during the conwhile the procession was on its band and the Richardson Zouaves, who "the gates ajar," sent in by members | Grant to the grave. On either side of guns at the position "reverse arms." Immediately in the rear of the hearse were 'he Rice Guards and Straight

Rifles, both local military companies.

The funeral car occupied a c-ntral position in the second of the lour grand divisions. The first grand division was in line, ready for movement when the casket was carried from the church. It was composed of State Military companies marching independently, all officers di-moented. Second grand division, following the hearse, came the carriages containing Mrs. Hendricks, Miss S. W. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Fitzhugh Thornton. The succeeding twelve carriages containing relatives and near friends. Ex-President Hays occupied the next carriage, and was followed in regular order by members of the cabiner United States Senators and Representatives, Governors any staffs, United State senators and Representatives, United States military officers, the Mayors of cities and other officials.

The third division was composed of all non military organizations. It was proceded by local irish American organizations, and followed by the marching political clobs which had taken part in the recent presidential campaign. Among the latter organizations under the Cookeounty Democratic club and the Iroquois club of Calicago; the Duckworth club of Cinemati; the Jackson club, of Commbus, Otho; the Jefferson club, of Orienmati; the Jackson club, Rifles, both local military companies. THE MARCH TO THE CEMETERY.

THE SCENE AT THE GRAVE.

last leave taking, y her brother and ordeal was most ate woman seemed rated, clinging to so soon to be hider view, and implacid and life-like dead, she desired is last scene, as it was, grave from whence the column approached. This order was cheerfully obeyed.

When Mrs. Hendricks, leaning upon the arm of Mr. Morgan, stepped upon the matting places alongs de the grave, and before the caskot was removed from the hearse, she paused to look, down into the last resting place of her dead, only to see a picture of loveliness in its lining of treets leaves and flowers. Then she turned to the grave of her child, which had been made giorous with 2 covering of smilax and flowers, and read in letters of white, his baby mane. "Morge." and on the top of the grave, on a field of white, in purple letters, the sentence "and a threshold cord shall not be broken." The tender love which she discerned in this freatment of her treasure by sympathetic trients seemed to give her courage for the last ordeal. Her glance then caught the mountent with its drapery of the national flag, enveloping a rife like portrait of her husband facing the grave, and she turned with the bravery of heroism to wittens the last rices.

There had been no rainfail for a brief period, but the sky was lowering, Just as the coffin was placed beede the grave, there was a light sprinking of rain, causing many to recall the old saying, "Blessed are the dead whom the rain falls on."

ling of rain, causing many to recall the old saying, "Blessed are the dead whom the rain falls on."

The Columbus barracks band, at this point, played the American hymn, and the reading of the service followed. Mrs. Hendricks only leaned more heavily upon Mr. Morgan, resting her head at last upon his shoulder, but her self-sontrol was bravely maintained.

While the service was read the congressional committee, the members of the cabinet and other distinguished visitors stood upon the other side of the grave. The words of the clergy was now and then drowned by the sound of the minute gun, which kept firing until after interment was over. When the coffin had been lowered 150 the vanit by the four colored assistants of the undertaker, and, there was nothing remaining to be done, for 5 the placing of the stone and the filling of the grave was to be attended to by the cemetery force, there was a moment's pause and allence, broken only by the minute gun, then Mrs. Hendricks and the friends of the family passed by the still open but not repellant grave and took their carriages.

The people who had waited sofrespectfullythen flocked to the grave to get a nearer view. The military order, "Forward, march," starfed the soldlers homeward, the carriages raindly relied away and the distinguished dead was selt alone. Among those who have borne something more than the ordinary sorrow of this bereavement is the rector, Mr. Jeneks. It was observed that during the reading of his brief address his voice more than once failed, and when at the close he pronounced his farewell, the word became almost a wall of grief. Tears were seen to start in many eyes and sobs were nudible in different parts of the church. This feeling was intensited as that thrilling solo "lock of Ages" was sung.

The members of the cabinet left en the ir special train over the Baltimore & Ohlo road to re-

ned as that thrilling solo "Bock of Ages" was sung.

The members of the capinet left on their special train over the Baltimora & Ohio road to return to Washington at 6 o'clock, departing atmost immediately upon their return from the cemetery. The senate and house committees, accompanied by the supreme court justices, left at the same hour in their special over the Penasylvania road.

Special trains left the city over all roads early in the evening, carrying away the greater portion of the visitors.

A close railway estimate shows that to exceed 30,000 people arrived in the city within the tion of the visitors.

A close railway estimate shows that to exceed 30,000 people arrived in the city within the twelve hours preceding the funeral, which taxed the capacity of the hotels.

The failure of President Cleveland to attend the obsequites was a subject of commen among many of those attending from abroad, and the impression appears to have gained ground that he might puss bly attend, to will frainfing the published announcement that he would not be able to do so.

There was a rumor that he had actually accompanied the cabinet members which found its way into print, but it was found to be till and with no possible foundation.

If there was any general sentiment expressed concerning the absence of the president, it was that his coming would have divested the element of unsafery about the person of the president, the thought of which should not be harbard in the minds of the people.

There was some natural curiosity on the part of a portion of the population to catch a view of some of the men of National repuration here to pay their respect for the dead, but this was limited to the lobbles of the hotels.

In the line of the procession the decorum shown was one of the striking features of the day's happenings. The presence of no one was marked by a cheer or even an open acknowledgement, which might be deemed in its way an eloquent tribute to the dead and a profound respect for the nature of the event.

Deer for the nature of the event.

[When the armagements for the interwere being perfected, it was suggested a rollitary guard should be placed at the a'least for a time

The directors of the Crown Hill cems declared this would be needless, as watchmen were efficient against any posvandalism.

which the work character and all sizes a special guard was placed over the grave.

The death of vice-fresident Hendricks leaves his widow in one sense entirely alone, so far as the possession and keeping up of their home-tend in this city is involved.

It is presumed, however, that she will for a time make her home with the family of S. W. Montan, her brother, also resident here, who has been close to her in her present great because of the sizes of the si

The Anti-Prohibitionists Defeated.

LAKE PROVIDENCE, LA., Dec. 1-In pursuance of an order issued by the police jury, an election was held throughout the parish of East Carroll to-day upon the subject of prohibition, or whether license for the sale of intoxicating liquors shall be issued by the parish authorities on and after January 1, 1886. The election was hotly contested at the different polling places, especially at the third ward, in which Lake Providence is situated, where the largest vote was polled, being over four hundred. Everything passed off quietly without any disturbance and at the hour of closing the polls, and from reports received from other portions of the parish the indications are that prohibition has been defeated in East Carroll and the license have carried the day by a considerable majority. Official results will be known to morrow. The colored clergymen took an active part in the cause of prohibition and did everything in their power to score a victory.

Fatal Quarrel.

Sr. Louis, Dec. 1.-A quarrel about a month ago between Henry Honrok, son of a prominent citizen of Hermann, Mo., and Herman Schlender, a young merchant of the same town, culminated on Sunday night in another hostile meeting at the Central hotel, in which Honrok was shot and killed. Schlender fled and has not been captured.

Cutting Off Superfluous Offices. BALTIMORE, Dec. 1-In obedience to instructions from Secretary Manning, the collector of this port will dispense with the services, after the 15th of December, of fourteen employes whose salaries aggregate $17,385. He will also reduce the salaries of others $2,-460. The reduced force, it is said, will be amply sufficient to perform all the